Chamber's task force meets with supervisors

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors will receive a report Monday night from a task force studying the operation of a unit system of county government.

Hancock County's qualified electors will vote June 3 on a local and private bill approved by the State Legislature to decide whether the supervisors should operate the county under a unit system.

The chamber's task force met Monday night with the Hancock County Board of Supervisors to discuss broad guidelines for establishing a unit system, should the electors approve the issue.

The task force was formed to gather information on the operation of a unit system, and make recommendations to the chamber's board of directors.

The chamber directors may support, object or not take a stand on the issue, Dick Thomas, chamber president said on Wednesday.

The referendum on the June 3 ballot states, "The board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, is hereby authorized and empowered, in its discretion...whether road and bridge maintenance and construction all other expenditures of public funds shall be performed on a county unit basis and without regard to district boundaries."

The supervisors requested the local and private bill from the State Legislature to allow voters to decide whether the county should operate under a unit system.

Currently in Hancock County, funds are divided among the five supervisors for road and bridge maintenance and construction work in their respective beats.

It was revealed at the task force's special meeting with the supervisors, Hancock's governing body already works as unit system in several functions of the county's operations.

It was emphasized by the chamber's task force, the chamber was interested in knowing how the county would or could operate under a unit system designed specifically for Hancock County.

The supervisors at the meeting said they were against a unit system, yet they indicated, if the qualified electors want the county to operate under a unit system, they would go along with the wishes of their constituents, and do everything in their power to make the system work.

In their study of a unit system, the task force came up with some recommended guidelines, then revised them after a lengthy discussion with the supervisors.

The proposed broad guidelines were:

—Central purchasing clerk, combine all ordering county-wide.

—Central location for major equipment, material stockpiles, maintenance shop, and a warehouse for parts and supplies. Two satellite locations, one in north, and one in south of county for daily use of equipment with limited material stockpiles.

—Centrally located maintenance shop, also daily preventative maintenance program.

—The management of the organization would be the board of supervisors with final authority, with a maintenance superintendent or county administrator, based on the discretion of the board.

—Utilization of the same personnel on crews, assign to work as necessary. Use existing clerical and bookkeeping personnel. Choose qualified maintenance superintendent or administrator from local population if possible. Hire mechanic(s), promoting from within if possible.

—Citizen complaints can go to superintendent-administrator or supervisors directly. Maintenance superintendent or county administrator can handle minor complaints directly, and establish periodic maintenance schedule. Major maintenance (such as road overlays) to be set by monthly priorities of the board of supervisors, with rotation through each beat's priorities.

Hancock County currently has 34 full time and 16 part time employees in its road and bridge maintenance departments. This includes five foremen, operators, truck drivers, and laborers.

Chuck Benvenuti, a chamber task force member explained, "The chamber's main emphasis is on educating the public as to how the unit system would work in Hancock County."

County school board seeks 10 percent budget increase

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Due to recent cuts in state funding the Hancock County School Board voted to advertise for a 10 percent increase in the budget for the 1986-87 school year.

Superintendent Terrell Randolph said the district would be losing approximately $100,000 in transportation, administration and textbook funding that the local district would have to provide.

"It appears that the legislature's intent is to put more of the burden of supporting the school district on the local governments," he added.

Randolph said the budget increase will also have to cover $35,000 of state-mandated pay raises and benefits for 28 district teachers.

The proposed budget increase, which would be approximately $90,000 will not take care of all state-mandated budget cuts, he added.

"Hopefully we will have enough funds with the budget increase to prevent the necessity of cutting any programs or personnel," Randolph said.

Also at the meeting the board instructed Randolph to have Architect Fred Wagner prepare preliminary specifications for two classrooms to be added to the current six-classroom project under construction at Gulfview Elementary School.

In other business the board:

—Scheduled a special meeting Thursday, May 8 to handle hearings for four students suspended from riding school buses.

—Approved a request from the Forestry Commission for payment in the amount of $9,296 for clearing burning and planting in Section 16-6-14.

—Approved a request to advertise for bids for kindergarten equipment and supplies including, audio-visual, teaching supplies, books, workbooks, tables, chairs, sleeping cots and playground equipment.

Approved a request to advertise for bids for seven air conditioners for classrooms in the district. Randolph said with this purchase district classrooms will be 100 percent air conditioned.

—Approved the resignation of Jennifer Smith as special education teacher at Charles B. Murphy Elementary effective May 30.

—Approved a recommendation to employ Charlotte Johnson as related studies lab teacher for 1986-87 school year.

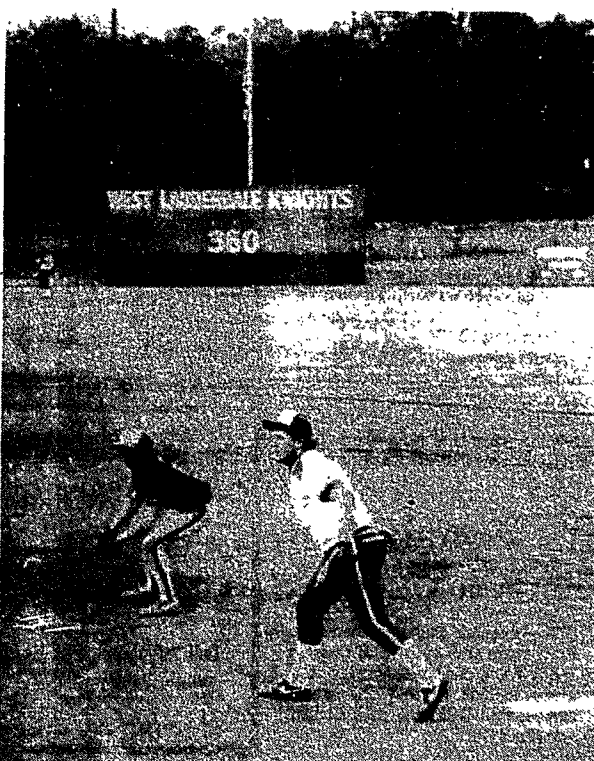

—Approved a recommendation to employ Sue E. Gholston and Barbara Pouncey as elementary teachers at Hancock North Central Elementary for the 1986-87 school year.

—Approved a recommendation to employ Marie Wallace as part-time custodian in the central office.

—Approved a recommendation to employ Norvin Kelly, Oscar Breland and Casey Hoda as temporary maintenance personnel for work on bleachers at HNC.

Approved superintendent to attend the superintendent's annual meeting on June 9 in Jackson.

—Approved a request for Randolph and Assistant Superintendent James Pair to attend the Grant Awards presentation in Jackson May 6.

Bay council agrees on new fence for city yard, approves beach bonfire, dumpster ordinances

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

The Bay St. Louis City Council voted Tuesday to have a new wooden fence installed adjacent to the current fence surrounding the city yard.

This motion was a culmination of efforts of Councilman Charles Johnson and area residents to eliminate the city yard as an eyesore in Ward 3.

Johnson has repeatedly made requests for cleanup of the yard which serves as a storage area for city vehicles and supplies.

Mayor Victor Frankiewicz Jr.

and Public Works Department Superintendent Norbert Redmond presented the council with several options for fences.

Included in the options was the construction of a wind screen incorporated with the current chainlink fence, installation of metal slats in the existing fence and replacement of the chainlink fence with a heavy or light duty wooden fence.

The prices for these options ranged from $3,700 to $6,600.

Frankiewicz told the council if they decided to go with the wooden fence, he would recommend the most heavy duty fence available, with an estimated price of $6,600.

"I personally feel a regularly constructed wooden fence would not make it through the summer," Councilman James Thrifflay said.

A wooden fence would also provide very little security for the yard, Thrifflay added.

Following a lengthy discussion the board agreed to have the chainlink fence repaired and construct a wooden fence on the outside that would be bolted to the current fence.

Redmond told the board he believed this could be done for approximately the same cost of constructing a heavy duty wood fence.

Also at the meeting the board approved two new city ordinances that will become effective in 30 days.

The first ordinance is designed to regulate activities on the city's beaches and requires a $25 deposit for a permit to have a bonfire on the beach.

The deposit shall be refunded at the discretion of the fire department after a satisfactory cleanup of the fire area.

The permit can also regulate the size, location and time of the fire in the interest of public safety.

Also included in the ordinance is a section that prohibits glass containers from being taken on the beach.

Another ordinance passed requires all garbage dumpsters to be covered.

This ordinance is designed to prevent problems caused by trash sur-

Truck overturns, injures three

By DENA BISNETTE

Three people were injured in a one-vehicle accident shortly before 2 a.m. Wednesday morning when a pick-up truck overturned on US-90 in Waveland.

Waveland Police Officer Brett J. Ladner said the injured included driver Jules Mollere, 26; and passengers John Passetino, 19, and Richard Goetz, 21, all of Waveland.

Mollere and Passetino were taken to Hancock General Hospital. Both were still under observation Wednesday afternoon with multiple abrasions and contusions, according to Hancock General Hospital Community Relations Director Mary Perkins.

Goetz was taken to Memorial Hospital in Gulfport. A hospital spokesperson said Wednesday afternoon that Goetz was in stable condition following surgery Wednesday morning.

Ladner said witnesses told him that the vehicle was traveling west at an excessive speed.

He said the truck apparently struck the median, then struck a curb on the outside lane and began overturning in front of McGehee Clinic. The vehicle stopped rolling when it landed in the parking lot of Bay-Waveland Tire Company.

Ladner said the cause of the accident has not yet been determined. No charges have been filed.

The investigation is continuing.

One arrested

By DENA BISNETTE

A Pearl River County man has been arrested and charged in connection with four burglaries in the Kiln-Hwy. 43 area.

Jeffrey Tyrone Ferguson, charged by the Hancock County Sheriff's Department with four counts of burglary of a business, was arrested in Hancock County Monday by Sheriff's Department Investigator Delbert Seay and Deputy Nathan Hoda.

Seay said a possible accomplice is being sought.

Ferguson was being held in the Pearl River County Jail Wednesday afternoon on additional charges for that county, Seay reported.

The investigator said Pearl River County has agreed to turn Ferguson back over to Hancock County after he faces the charges there.

The four Hancock County burglaries took place from August 1985 to October 1985 and included one at Kiln Supermarket and three at Vera's Place on Hwy. 43.

St. Ann Catholic Church

A thought for meditation from our pastor, Father Lambert Stack, ST: "Nobody talks so consistently about God as those who insist there is no God."

—Heywood Brown
Today, Thursday, May 8, the Granny Squares will meet in the parish hall at 10 a.m.

Two notable events will be celebrated in our parish this coming Sunday, May 11, when some of the children of St. Ann's and St. John's will receive the Body of Christ for the first time during the 9:30 a.m. mass.

The mass will also be offered for all the mothers both living and deceased for Mother's Day.

Mrs. Ruth Ketchum will be responsible for the offertory procession during the 5 p.m. vigil mass each Saturday in May.

For the 9:30 a.m. Sunday mass during the month of May Mrs. Edward Kenmore will be responsible for the offertory procession.

It is that time of the year again when St. Ann - St. John parishes are asking for donations of usable items of clothing, (men, women and children's) shoes, electrical appliances, furniture, dishes, odds and ends, toys, books, etc. for the annual summer sale to be held at St. Ann's. Date to be announced later.

Anyone with donations may leave them at the church or rectory or by calling Mrs. Shirley Williams, chairlady, for pickup.

NARFE elects Diamondhead man president

Jerry Medford of Diamondhead was elected state president of the National Association of Retired Federal Employees at the group's recent state convention in Jackson.

More than 6,000 Federal retirees reside in South Mississippi, representing approximately five million dollars monthly to the area economy.

Five chapters of the association are located in the three coastal counties. Many members of NARFE are present Federal employees who have more than five years of active Federal Service, with many employed at Keesler Air Force Base, the Navy Seabee Base and other government offices throughout the area.

Garden Park plans Hospital Week events

AMI Garden Park Community Hospital in Gulfport is sponsoring a series of special events during National Hospital Week, May 11-17.

This year's theme is "Hospitals Make Healthy Neighbors."

The public is invited to participate in the events scheduled throughout the week, which include:

—"FREE" to the public, blood pressure screenings and height and weight screenings in the emergency room.

—Daily tours of the hospital for area elementary schools.

—A special team of nurses from Garden Park will present "No Choke" program to area restaurants each day during National Hospital Week.

—Also, a special program for the community on "How To Handle Burn Out" Thursday, May 15, 6:30-8 p.m., hospital's Dining Garden. Refreshments will be served. Guest Speaker will be Dr. Earl Rectanus, Gulf Coast Mental Health Center.

National Hospital Week is sponsored by the American Hospital Association each year and AMI Garden Park Community Hospital joins this national observance to strengthen communications among its patients, employees and the community.

Two parts still open in Bay theatre production

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre reports two parts remain open in its forthcoming presentation of "Suitehearts" by Wm. Van Zandt and Jane Milmore as its second regular season production.

Director Carol Young will host auditions to fill the two roles at 7 p.m. Friday and 4 p.m. Saturday at the Theatre on Boardman Avenue.

This comedy of errors calls for a cast of five, two women and three men from early twenties to mid-forties. Still open are parts requiring actor between 18 and 30 years of age, and an actress between late 20s and 45.

Ms. Young is searching for a cast who wants to enjoy the best of community theatre. "A sense of humor is the essential quality for 'Suitehearts' actors," she said.

"What this cast will share with the audience is fun, laughter and a sense of well being that all will be right with the world." Young continued.

Booth space available to non-profit organizations at Pass Seafood Festival

The tenth annual Pass Christian Seafood Festival will be held Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, July 25, 26 and 27 in Pass Christian's War Memorial Park.

Gates open at 11 a.m. each day. In addition to the festival's famous gumbo and boiled shrimp, this year's menu will include stuffed crabs and fried shrimp, oysters, and fish.

A handicraft show and sale featuring the works of more than one hundred craftsmen will run along with the festival. This year's exhibition is expected to draw representatives from more than nine states and include such crafts as pottery, macrame, and art.

For more information about "Suitehearts" call 467-2121 or 467-4265.

This year's Seafood Festival will welcome two new features. Festival '86 will mark the First Annual Seafood Festival Sand Sculpture Contest to be held Saturday, July 26, on the sand beach adjacent to the festival grounds. Also for the first time, area non-profit organizations will have the opportunity to lease space for game booths to aid them in their fund-raising activities.

For more information on the sand sculpture contest, non-profit booths, or to lease space to exhibit your crafts, please call 452-4038 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday - Saturday. Proceeds of the Pass Christian Seafood Festival benefit St. Paul's Catholic School.

Telephone directory change deadline nears

South Central Bell has announced that the closing date for making changes, corrections or additions to the Gulf Coast telephone directory is approaching.

Pat Santucci, district manager, has requested that all telephone subscribers in the Gulf Coast area take a minute to check their current listings. Any changes or additions in residence listings can be called in to the Residence Service Center at 1-557-6500, toll free. Business customers can call in changes to 1-557-6000, toll free.

Yellow Page additions or changes should be received by June 2 and white page listings by June 30.

The Gulf Coast telephone directory is scheduled to be delivered to area residents and businesses in mid September.

Addicts aren't necessarily on skid row

ADDICTION. The word conjures up a stumbling junkie roaming city streets looking for his next fix. Or maybe a dirty, unshaven wino in a gutter asking passerbys for a quarter.

Those images are only too true in many cases. But there are other scenarios: the businessman who keeps the fifth of vodka in a desk drawer; the housewife who starts drinking after lunch to escape what she sees as a wasted life; the star athlete who picked up a cocaine habit when he was in the fast lane in college, and can't kick it.

Put simply, addiction is a way of acting or feeling which becomes such an important source of pleasure or security that it interferes with normal life. Addicts will choose their addiction over families, their health and, sometimes, over life itself.

Alcoholism is still the biggest problem. An addiction to alcohol occurs with about 10 percent of adults who drink. The mood changing power of alcohol, bringing sensations such as relaxation, confidence, sexiness or aggressiveness can provide a compelling invitation to abuse.

Once in motion, alcoholism draws most of its victims inexorably into a life-style of ever increasing use. Problems with mood and deteriorating personal relationships become more and more painful.

Illicit drugs are a growing problem. Marijuana, cocaine, hashish, the opiates and amphetamines head the list of chemical agents increasingly appearing as the objects of substance addictions.

The preoccupation with the use of these chemicals, involvement in the sub-culture built around their use, and involvement in the illicit drug industry which helps supply users, takes addicts farther and farther away from normal family lives and normal personal, educational and career aspirations.

Another class of drugs not always thought of as being subject to widespread abuse are prescription medicines. Complicated patterns of frustration or anxiety made endurable - or even resolved easily - through prescription medicine are frequently misunderstood as being neurotic disorders rather than recognized as potential addictions.

Dependence on pain relievers or muscle relaxants often leads to perpetuation of symptoms of pain or muscular tension which results in the continued use of medication and frequent undiagnosed addiction. Addiction can and often does cause physical symptoms ranging from ulcers to headaches.

People who aren't living life the way they want to because of addiction, or a family member who is hurting himself and others with his dependency may get the most up-to-date, professional help available at a modern treatment facility such as in Mandeville, La., 1-800-432-0877.

Many also conquer alcohol and drug addictions with the help of support groups such as Alcoholics Anonymous or Narcotics Anonymous. In Hancock County call 255-3413, or in Harrison County, 868-1114.

Laurel attorney announces Supreme Court candidacy

Jon Swartzfager, a Laurel attorney and former Municipal Court judge, has announced his candidacy for Mississippi Supreme Court judge, Southern District.

Swartzfager views the June 3 election as vital to the future of Mississippi.

"The person elected to serve as our next Supreme Court judge will be in office until 1996," Swartzfager said. "For that reason, it's important that Mississippians elect an individual who can help guide the state into the 21st century."

Swartzfager cited his wide-ranging experience in the Mississippi courts, stating that he has worked in the legal system for 20 years. "I believe I can do even more as Supreme Court judge," he said.

Swartzfager said his decision to run grew out of a personal desire to do something positive for Mississippi, a state that has been home to his family for five generations.

"South Mississippi is my home," he said, "and the people here have been good to me and my family. I hope to be able to give something back to the people of this state."

Swartzfager believes it is important that the next Supreme Court judge from the Southern District has the experience and energy necessary to carry out the duties of the office.

"A lot of folks in Mississippi think the State Supreme Court judges sit around all day in their robes. Nothing could be further from the truth."

"The Mississippi Supreme Court is a very important and hard-working body," he said. "The court reviews over 1,000 cases a year. It's extremely difficult and time-consuming work, and it requires someone who is familiar with all aspects of the law, and who is willing to put in the long hours necessary to get the job done.

"I've been a practicing attorney for 20 years, I've plead many cases before the Supreme Court, and I've served the people as a Municipal Court judge. I believe my wide range of experience will help me in making sound, fair decisions that will reflect the will of the people."

Swartzfager sees the Mississippi Supreme Court as a major factor in the growth of Mississippi.

"We have a real opportunity for growth and prosperity in the years to come. But we also face many challenges," as "litigation" becomes more and more complex. The people need to elect someone to the Court who knows the law, who understands the people of this state, and who is willing to put in as many hours as it takes to insure justice for future generations of Mississippians."

Born in Laurel, 45-year-old Swartzfager studied at Millsaps College and the University of Mississippi, after graduating from public schools in Jones County.

A member of the Mississippi State Bar, he has 20 years trial experience in all state and federal courts. He currently serves on the board of governors of the Mississippi Trial Lawyers Association, and is past president of the Young Lawyers Section of the Jones County Bar Association.

Swartzfager is married to the former Ann Sturdivant of Tupelo. They have three children and one grandchild, and reside in Swartzfager's lifelong home, Laurel.

Swartzfager is a former Sunday school and classroom teacher, and is a sustaining member of the Laurel Jaycees.

Free Delivery.....Financing Available

Point of Law

(Prepared by the Mississippi State Bar. Some rights may vary from locality to locality. Always consult an attorney when in doubt about your legal rights.)

Q. I received the final billing for some merchandise we recently purchased and paid for it with a check marked "Paid in Full." The store cashed my check, but the following month sent another bill for payment. Am I legally expected to pay the second bill? What can I do to make sure this will not give me bad credit?

A. It appears that in your situation, you did pay the account in full, and, therefore, your debt would be discharged even without the notation, "Paid in Full."

Your cancelled check will serve as evidence of the discharge of your obligation. You should contact the store where you bought the goods, and produce the cancelled check. That should clear up any misunderstanding or mistake.

Q. I purchased a new car and financed it with a finance company. I say that I am not delinquent and they say I am three notes behind. A man from the finance company came to my house and told me I had no choice but to give him the car. What are my rights?

A. You have a right to refuse to relinquish possession of your car unless there is a court order requiring you to do so.

If the finance company does take you to court and you are found to be in the wrong and that you owe the three notes, then you may be responsible for court costs and possibly the finance company's attorney's fees.

In either event, you should contact your attorney before you relinquish possession of your property.

Q. My insurance agent told me that I have $10,000 in "uninsured motorist coverage." What does that term mean?

A. Mississippi law requires every automobile liability insurance policy to contain a clause which will pay the insured for bodily injury or death from the owner and operator of an uninsured motor vehicle unless you, the insured, specifically state in writing that you do not want uninsured motorist coverage.

Uninsured motorist coverage protects you from a negligent driver of an automobile who does not have an automobile liability insurance. You should also know that you have a right to purchase uninsured motorist coverage up to the same amount as your automobile liability coverage.

Quotables by CUEVAS

We are hoping that Bay High's baseball stands will be overflowing with Tiger supporters tonight when they vie with West Lauderdale in Class 3-A South Championship play.

Our Tigers are to be congratulated on taking the District VIII Class 3-A championship last week.

The local team really needs some good fan support, especially since they won the District championship and will be trying to get into the winning column of the South Championship series.

On Tuesday night at West Lauderdale the Tigers' bats which carried them through the district play were silenced to only one hit in a 6-0 defeat.

Tonight they will be trying to even the series with West Lauderdale, and this is the reason they will need some good hometown support.

A Tiger victory tonight would lead to a third game against West Lauderdale for the South Mississippi championship to be played at a neutral field Saturday.

We are hoping to see you tonight as Head Coach G.L. McRaney's Tiger nine take the field.

Remember it has been a long time since Bay High's Tigers have gone so far in state baseball competition.

Game time is 7 p.m. at the Tigers' Field on Athletic Drive.

This is the time of year when Boy Scouts have an opportunity of getting out into the woods and learning what scouting is all about.

Boy Scout Troop 217 recently spent two days and three nights at McLeod Park in Hancock County.

Scoutmaster Roy Mason reports the scouts did survival cooking while at the outing, cooking all types of foods and having no dishes to wash.

Scouting is not as popular as in years gone by, but it is good to know there are still many boys who enjoy the fun of camping out.

The big event for Troop 217 will be a four-day 30-mile float trip on Black Creek.

Mason says he has a few openings in his troop and any boy 11 years old and interested in scouting may contact him at 452-7540.

Troop 217 is sponsored by Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church and Pere Le Duc Council 1522 Knights of Columbus.

The troop meets each Tuesday at 7 p.m. at the K.C. Hall on Main Street in Bay St. Louis.

INSECT STINGS CAN BE FATAL TO SOME

(Presented as a public service by the Mississippi State Medical Association and this newspaper.)

With the return to outdoor activities this spring comes once again the hazard of bees and wasps.

For most of us the venom of a stinging insect hurts and is annoying, but is not a serious health problem. But the Mississippi State Medical Association reminds that for some, the bee sting can be fatal. Those are the individuals who are allergic to stings. Insect stings cause more deaths yearly than snake bites. The most common stinging insects are bees, hornets, wasps, yellow jackets, bumble bees and fire ants.

The sting causes pain, swelling, redness, itching and burning. If stung by a honey bee, carefully remove the stinger by gently scraping with a knife blade or finger nail. Wash with soap and water. Place ice wrapped in cloth or cold compresses on the sting area. Soothing lotions such as calamine or a paste of baking soda and a little water are often helpful in relieving discomfort.

Those allergic to insect stings suffer from a condition known as anaphylactic shock. It can occur sometimes from only one sting if the victim has been stung previously.

Insect sting shock symptoms include severe swelling in other parts of the body, such as around the eyes, lips and tongue. Weakness, coughing or wheezing, severe itching, stomach cramps, nausea and vomiting, anxiety, difficulty in breathing, dizziness, collapse, unconsciousness and hives or rash over the body often follow quickly after a sting.

It is important to open an airway and restore breathing. Some experts suggest using a tourniquet in severe reactions where life might be at stake. Emergency insect sting kits available by prescription sometimes contain a tourniquet. It can be used only if the sting is on an arm or leg. Don't tie it too tight, and loosen it every five minutes until medical help arrives. A watchband or belt can serve as a tourniquet.

Place cold compresses on the sting area. Keep the victim lying down unless he is short of breath. Then let him sit up. Keep victim quiet and comfortable. If a first aid kit for insect stings is available, use it according to the directions.

Chairmen proclaim 'Jail & Bail' a success

To the Editor
Sea Coast Echo
Bay St. Louis

To all Hancock County Citizens:

The recent 'Jail and Bail' fund-raiser was a tremendous success for the March of Dimes.

The success of the event can be attributed to the wonderful folks who live on the Gulf Coast.

The credit goes to the contributors, who gave their hard-earned money to the 'jail birds' who gave up their time and did the hard work raising money, and to the wonderful volunteers without whom we could not have had this event.

The proceeds, nearly $16,000 in cash and pledges, will be used in the never-ending fight against birth defects.

Ronnie Peterson
'Jail & Bail' Chairman
Evelyn W. McPhail
Hancock County
March of Dimes Chairman

Searching for unity in a divided community

Friends, Romans and Countrymen lend me your ears.

All the Gulf Coast community is divided into three parts:

In the first part live the gardeners. These are the people who mow, rake, plant, spray, fertilize, clip, trim, prune and water.

They spend countless hours in an attempt to make their spot in the sun an attractive and pleasant place in which to live.

In the second part live the dog owners. These people feed, pamper, shampoo, de-flea, de-worm and train their beloved pets saying the animals protect them from intruders and serve as companions.

They feel these animals should be exempt from leash-laws and set free to run the streets with privilege to enter private property.

In the third part live the TV and radio people. They are peace-loving sitters. They do not see the flowers. They do not see the dogs. They contentedly sit and watch the boob-tube or listen to country music.

Occasionally they do get a protest from the garden people or from the dog people requesting that they mercifully lower the volume on their instruments alleging pictures on their walls are vibrating and the decibel intensity is deafening.

For the most part those who do nothing, say nothing and see nothing are safe.

That is—safe until contaminated drinking water unites all of us.

Eyes on Mississippi

by

JACKSON—No wonder Pat McMullan, former head of the failed Mississippi Bank, was smiling broadly the other day when he emerged from a Birmingham, Ala. federal courthouse after being sentenced for crimes committed in the bank disaster.

McMullan, who not long ago was the top Democratic money man in Mississippi, was given six months to serve in the ultimate "country club" of federal lockups at Elgin Field, Fla.

In about four and a half months of doing such chores as clipping the lawns and tidying up the barracks at the Florida resort area post, he'll be back in circulation in Mississippi.

If his incredibly light sentence is going to be the culmination of the federal probe into nefarious financial and political dealings of McMullan that started even before the bank folded two years ago, it will be a travesty of the justice system.

Specifically, McMullan had pleaded guilty to felony charges of income tax evasion and concealing from federal bank regulators loans he had made to himself.

Certainly in view of the nine year prison term given to former State Sen. Tommy Brooks for trying to get a bribe from the horse-racing folks and the five year sentence given Federal Judge Walter Nixon for allegedly lying to a grand jury, the scales of justice seem far out of balance. What Brooks was accused of doing did not bring suffering to others. Nor did Judge Nixon, whose word happened to have differed from that of a lawyer whose credibility is questionable.

It seems grossly wrong that McMullan, whose malevolence ruined the lives of a number of people and wiped out the life savings of many small stockholders, will be back on the street very shortly, while Brooks, in his 60's, will be confined in prison another four or five years for one injudicious act.

The fact that McMullan's case had to be moved from Mississippi over to Alabama because of the ex-banker's past business and political ties to some members of the federal judiciary in Mississippi says something in itself.

It is impossible to know fully just how far McMullan's influence in the Mississippi political community extended through his free-wheeling financial power, but there are some indications.

One person familiar with the voluminous records of McMullan's dealings told this column "there is probably not an elected official around who doesn't owe him (McMullan) something."

McMullan had been one of the late Sen. James O. Eastland's closest supporters and over the years was the recipient of political favors from Eastland. One source told this column that before Eastland died in February, he had written a letter in McMullan's behalf seeking leniency in the federal case against the Jackson banker.

The very close ties between McMullan and Lieut. Gov. Brad Dye have been well known around the Mississippi political scene. Several times during the investigation of Mississippi Bank there had been speculation that the probe would link Dye to some of McMullan's activities.

Dye, who was called as a witness by the federal grand jury which handled the case, has not been charged with any wrongdoing.

Recent disclosures from findings of a separate investigation of McMullan made by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation show that McMullan received what the FDIC said amounted to "kickbacks" from DeWitt Corp. of which wealthy farmer P. L. Blake of Greenwood, is an owner.

The FDIC investigation said McMullan was paid $125,000 each quarter as a director of DeWitt, at a time when he was directing the bank to make substantial loans to Blake and his wife. The huge $125,000 quarterly fee paid McMullan, the FDIC said, was not based on any expertise or special knowledge of McMullan's, so the federal agency concluded it constituted a kickback for providing bank credit.

DeWitt Corp. for several years has been listed by Lieut. Gov. Brad Dye on his state Ethics Commission financial disclosure report as one of his sources of income above $2,500 a year. It is believed that Dye was asked about his connections with DeWitt and Blake in his grand jury appearance last year.

Neither Blake, who has long been a major contributor to political campaigns, nor his wife has been named in federal charges.

Federal documents which emerged in connection with the McMullan case also involve the advertising agency owned by Jackson ad man Mike Martinson in some McMullan dealings to conceal improper loans.

Martinson's agency is currently handling the state Department of Economic Development account. He is perennially one of the state ad men involved in state gubernatorial campaigns.

Murder trial set at Bay High

Combine the efforts of 22 very talented seniors, sprinkle in an exciting action-packed plot that revolves around a murder trial, mix with a setting that looks like an actual courtroom, and the result is the recipe for a perfect senior play.

On Friday at 8 p.m. the curtain rises on Bay Senior High's 1986 production of the "Night of January 16th," by Ayn Rand.

The entire play takes place in Superior Court Number 11 of the State of New York.

On trial is the secretary of one of the world's richest men, "Bjorn Faulkner."

Karen Andre (Tonya Hammonds) is accused of killing her boss by pushing his body from his penthouse.

Her lawyer (Spurgeon Crosby) pleads for her life on the grounds that Faulkner committed suicide. However, the district attorney (Trace McRaney) claims it was murder, that a detective (Daniel Dorion) saw the whole thing from a nearby rooftop.

Faulkner's newly widowed wife (Kelly Ramsey) and her wealthy father (Stace McRaney) make a surprise entrance just in time to bring out the fact that Faulkner was broke and needed $10 million.

As the plot unfolds, many witnesses testify to the ruthlessness of Faulkner in business and yet how generous he was with his secretary.

So why should Karen kill him? Who was Karen Andre's secret lover on the same night Faulkner was killed? Whose body was pushed off the penthouse? What about the burned plane and the missing $10 million?

To find the answers to these questions, see a terrific show and even possibly sit with the jury to try the case.

See the "Night of January 16th" at Bay Junior High School Auditorium. Curtain time is 8 p.m. Tickets are $2 at the door.

Bay High Band returns to festival

After an absence of three years, the Bay High Band has returned to participation in the MHSAA State Band Festival activities.

The Tiger Pride Band traveled to Jackson Wednesday, Apr. 9, to be evaluated in the areas of concert, sight reading, marching, inspection, and student conductor. The band earned ratings of 'good and excellent' in concert, 'good' in sight reading and marching, 'excellent' for Student Conductor Thad McIntyre, and 'superior' for inspection.

According to director, Miss Lana Jones, the BSL band program is in a rebuilding stage. The high school band is small in number at this time and had to compete in the same classification as bands three and four times its size. Festival judges and observers highly complimented the band on the quality of their performances and positive attitude in comparison to the larger bands at the event.

In reference to the rebuilding of the band program, Miss Jones commented that this first commands sound fundamental teaching of music in the junior high feeder program, and this is an ongoing year-by-year process.

The band is planning to have a four-day camp at Pearl River Junior College in August to prepare for next fall's football season.

"Salad Soups" = a mixture between the two - are quite tempting to the flagging appetite when the temperature soars - or at other times, too, for that matter.

They're quite easy on the cook, also, at least at lunch or dinnertime, for they require little else but cold chicken or meats or fish and hot breads to complete the menu.

One of my favorites is the frosty Gaspacho of Spain, a tasty salad-soup or soup-salad, depending upon the consistency and method of preparation you choose.

Gaspacho is said to have originated as a refreshing break or minustay of peasants working in the fields of Spain under the blazing sun of spring and summer.

The women carried the cold soup in earthen jugs to the workers in the lush fields and olive groves, to help sustain them through the back-breaking days of toil.

There is really no one formula, no one way to make gaspacho, rather, there are myriad variations, and countless arguments as to the best way. Some prefer a thick puree; others prefer the vegetables finely-cut, and still others, including this cook, like the larger chunks, for, to me, texture is a quite important part of the dining table offerings.

But for what it's worth, here's a favorite:

GAZPACHO

6 large, ripe tomatoes, chopped to your liking, coarse or fine

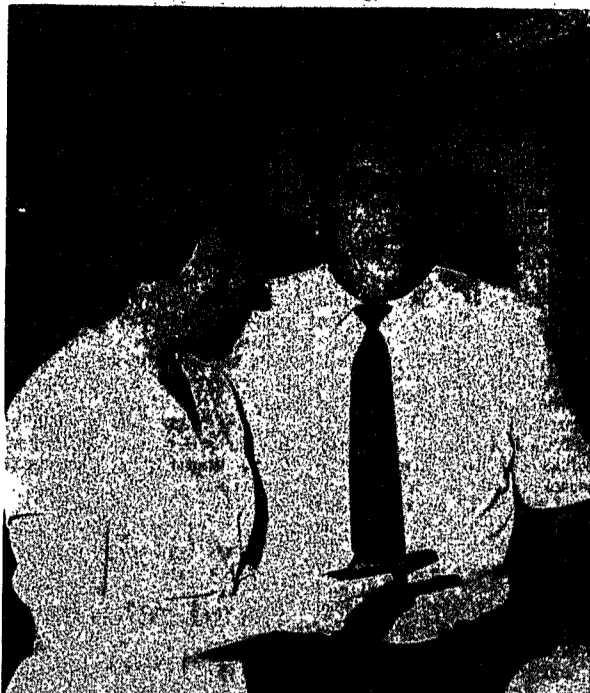

2 cucumbers, the same
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup chopped green peppers
1/2 cup olive oil
3 Tbsp. lemon juice
Generous dashes of freshly-ground black pepper
Slight dash of hot pepper sauce
2 cups chilled tomato juice
Croutons, optional
Parsley for garnish

For extra flavor, start a day ahead by rubbing a glass salad bowl with a clove of garlic, then discard the garlic - and, for the sake of everything else in the refrigerator, where you stash it overnight, cover the bowl!

The following day, peel and seed and chop the tomatoes to your liking, as well as the cucumbers. Add the onion and bell (green) pepper. Add the pepper and the pepper sauce. Chill for several hours in the refrigerator, in the seasoned bowl.

Just before serving, add the tomato juice. Serve in well-chilled soup plates or cups, with an ice cube in each, and parsley sprinkled atop. Garnish with croutons, if you wish.

If you prefer, you may cut down on the tomato juice and you'll have more of a salad or relish than a cold soup. And, if you're a cook such as I, you'll improvise at will and come up with all sorts of variations on the gaspacho theme. In fact, whenever I have leftover salad, I chop or toss it, dressing and all, into the blender and enjoy a gaspacho of sorts.

Pearl River boat accident kills one man, injures two

BY DENA BISNETTE

A 21-year-old Nicholson man was killed and two other people injured in a boating accident on the East Pearl River.

The body of Robert Wayne Taylor was found at about 11 a.m. Monday by divers from the St. Tammany Parish, La., Sheriff's Department Dive Rescue Squad, Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said.

Taylor had been thrown from a boat at about 7 p.m. Sunday after the vessel struck a marker buoy about one mile south of the US-90 bridge.

Taylor apparently struck his head on a piling when he was thrown, Peterson said.

A spokesman for the St. Tammany Sheriff's Department said an autopsy performed late Monday showed that Taylor's death resulted from drowning rather than the head injury.

Peterson said the investigation of the death had been turned over to St. Tammany because authorities had found that the accident occurred in Louisiana waters.

The 16-foot aluminum boat with a 70-horsepower motor was being operated by 17-year-old William Mark Mitchell of Picayune when the accident occurred.

Taylor and a second passenger, Richard Kennedy, 18, of Nicholson, who were both thrown out of the boat, were riding in front of the operator.

Kennedy, who suffered a head injury, and David Wayne Durapau, 29, of Nicholson, also injured, were taken to Crosby Memorial Hospital in Picayune.

A spokesperson for the hospital said that Durapau was transferred to University Hospital in Jackson for treatment of a fractured foot. Kennedy was treated and released.

Mitchell and another passenger, Terry Williams, 19, of Nicholson, were not injured.

Charges of reckless operation of a watercraft were filed against Mitchell in St. Tammany Parish, according to the St. Tammany Sheriff's Department. The charge carries a fine and a mandatory court appearance.

The investigation into the death is continuing.

Two collisions block bridge

Two auto accidents involving a total of six vehicles temporarily blocked the westbound lanes of the Bay St. Louis Bridge Sunday.

According to a spokesman for the Bay St. Louis Police Department, the first of the two accidents occurred at about 4:15 p.m.

The second accident, a few minutes later, apparently occurred when motorists tried to avoid the three cars stalled on the bridge from the first collision.

None of the six drivers were seriously injured, the spokesman said.

The first accident involved vehicles driven by Jennie M. Baker of Waveland, Boudreaux B. Adley of LaPlace, La., and Joseph A. Hingle of Sildell, La.

The second accident involved vehicles driven by Thomas Cool of Bay St. Louis, Tracy Wright of Bay St. Louis and James M. Sego of Atlanta.

Conservation reserve program

More participation expected for second signup

MISSISSIPPI STATE — Agricultural officials are expecting more farmers to sign up for the second signup of the conservation reserve program from May 5-16.

The second signup is necessary because not enough land was placed in the reserve in the initial signup in March, said Dr. Eddie Funderburg, an agronomist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Nationwide, only 838,000 acres were placed into the conservation reserve for 1986. Officials had hoped to take at least 5 million acres of erodible cropland out of production in 1986 and up to 40 million acres out of production during the next 10 years.

Funderburg said more land likely will be entered in the reserve in the second signup because many uncertainties about the program have been removed.

"Farmers have a better idea now about what to bid on their land," he said. "Also, we know now that the Gramm-Rudmann budget balancing amendment will not reduce payments to farmers."

Funderburg said it was unclear during the first signup period whether Gramm-Rudmann would reduce payments to farmers, which may have encouraged some farmers not to enroll.

Funderburg said essentially all qualifying criteria for the program outlined in the first signup remain in effect for the second signup.

"Cropland still has to be eroding at three times the Soil Conservation Service tolerance level to qualify," Funderburg said. "Farmers can still plant land entered in the reserve in trees, grass and feed crops for wildlife."

Farmers who successfully entered erodible cropland into the reserve are allowed to charge for hunting rights for added income, Funderburg said.

The goal of the conservation reserve program is to reduce surplus crop production and conserve soil by removing highly erodible cropland from production.

Funderburg also said farmers can sign up for the program for 1986 or 1987, depending on whether crops are currently being grown on the land. Farmers entering successful bids are still required to meet program requirements for 10 years.

"Any bid made by an individual farmer in the first signup and accepted is binding even though there is a second signup period," Funderburg said.

About 38,000 acres in Mississippi were entered in the reserve in the first signup, about half the state's allotment of 78,000 acres in 1986.

The maximum accepted bid for Mississippi cropland taken out of production was $39 to $40. But Funderburg said farmers should not assume accepted bids will be the same in the second signup.

"Mississippi had the highest amount of acreage accepted nationwide," Funderburg said. "The state also had the highest number of acres put into wildlife uses. About 75 percent of all accepted acreage in Mississippi went into trees."

For information on specific questions about the conservation reserve contact the local county Extension office, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, Soil Conservation Service or county forester.

Children mourn in four stages

When encountering the death of a loved one, children typically go through four stages of mourning.

First, they are likely to test the reality of the loss. They may deny that death has occurred; they may act as though nothing has happened. Their minds are incapable of accepting the reality of the loss. A child may continue to set out milk for a pet cat, for example.

Secondly, pain and disorganization follow as the reality of the loss makes its impact. A child may complain of physical distress or may become hostile. Some children may suffer from guilt by unfairly blaming themselves for the death.

Usually following this intense period of emotion, children will begin to adjust by working through memories related to the loss. This is the third stage. They may want to look at photos or talk about experiences with the pet or relative.

Reminiscing gives children the opportunity to put the loss into perspective. It is the child's way of saying "This is someone I loved but now he's gone; this is sad, but I have happy memories of our time together. My life has been enriched by knowing him."

Finally, there is a reorganization of life without the attachment. At this point children can begin to establish relationships that substitute for the one they lost. An uncle can become a father figure, for example, or another pet could join the family.

The way children respond to death depends not only on their age but also on their style of coping with grief, the nature of the loss and the type of support they receive from family and friends.

Helping a child deal with death can be a difficult task for a parent, especially if the loss is a significant one to you, also. Helping your child understand and accept the loss of a pet is much easier than helping them understand the loss of a grandparent when you are dealing with the loss of someone so significant to you.

Children's questions and fears about death may trigger our own insecurities about life. We must be willing to set aside the apprehensions if we want to reach out to children who are struggling to make sense of the mysteries of life and death. How we respond is one of the most personal decisions we will make, one influenced by our past experiences and our feelings about ourselves.

Trent Lott to visit Hancock County

U.S. Congressman Trent Lott, Mississippi 5th District, and minority whip of the House of Representatives is scheduled to appear at the Diamondhead Community Center on Friday, May 16 at 7 p.m.

The event is co-sponsored by the Hancock County Republican Women's Club and Republican Executive Committee. There will be a cocktail buffet with cash bar.

Mary McDonnell, president of the Hancock County Women's Club, said this is an informal gathering and everyone will have a chance to meet with Congressman Lott.

There will be a $3 admission, the public is invited to attend.

Parking bays planned for Waveland beach

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Waveland Board of Aldermen has approved a proposal to construct 13 parking bays along Beach Boulevard.

The bays will be constructed along wooded, uninhabited areas to keep beachfront residents from having problems with excessive noise, Mayor John Longo Jr. said Tuesday.

In addition, the bays are expected to help alleviate problems with vehicles becoming stuck in the sand.

According to Engineer Ray Eaton, who is presently overseeing a paving project for the city, each bay will cost about $150 to $200, depending on how much base material will have to be used.

Some of the locations are in sandy areas and will require larger quantities of base materials like clay gravel.

Longo said the money for the project will come out of the city's general fund.

The bays will be added to the city's current street paving program.

"I don't feel Waveland should be like some of the other Coast cities, inviting people to visit then charging them for parking wherever they can because no place is provided, or charging them to get their cars out of the sand," Longo commented.

"We want to provide for our summer residents and tourists. Right now most of them have no place to park without risking getting their cars stuck."

In other business Tuesday, the board:

—Accepted bids for the city fire department on a used three-quarter ton firetruck and a deluge gun for fighting fires in high rise buildings;

—Took advertising requests from Waveland Little League and St. Clare Catholic Church;

—Proclaimed May 1 through 19 Loyalty Days at the request of Veterans of Foreign Wars;

—Appointed James Lagasse as Waveland representative to the county's human resources council;

—Held a public hearing on a Community Development Block Grant application for funding for extension of the city's sewer and water systems without obtaining any objections;

—Authorized advertisement for bids for materials for water system improvements on Vacation Lane and Farrar Street; and —Heard a report from Board Attorney Lucien Gex, who said the U.S. Department of Justice has received the city's redistricting plan and has requested some additional information.

The board meets again at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, May 21.

Attorney requests room for client conferences

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has been asked to help with a space problem in the courthouse.

Attorney Nicholas Haas appeared before the board Monday to request that a room be set aside for attorneys who wish to confer with their clients during court sessions.

Haas said two small offices upstairs had been used before renovations on the courthouse were begun several months ago. Since then, those two rooms have been designated for use by County Public Defender William Frisbie and County Probation Officer John Kirkland. "We understand that there is some shuffling going on in the courthouse and we would like to know if we could have our closet back," Haas said.

He explained that he and other attorneys involved feel both Kirkland and Frisbie need office space in the courthouse, but commented that Kirkland could be moved to a downstairs office to free the room in question for the attorneys.

He suggested that some room might be available once an addition to the office of Circuit Clerk John Rutherford has been completed.

The space that will be created by those renovations, however, has already been allocated to the Hancock County Election Commission.

Haas also suggested that a room upstairs in front of the board of supervisors meeting room be used. Board President A.A. Kellar said that particular room is not available.

"The voting machines are stored in there. We don't know if we have anyplace else to put them," Kellar explained.

Kellar said the board will look into the problem to see if there is a room available in the courthouse.

In other business Monday, the board:

—Approved the hiring and training of a new employee for the book-keeping section of the Hancock County Tax Collector-Assessor's Office in anticipation of retirement of a present employee;

—Heard a request from Clermont Harbor resident Leonard Rupp for "No glass" and "No Littering" signs on the beach and replacement of missing speed limit signs along Beach Road from Buccannier State Park to Clermont Harbor;

—Approved a proposal from Beat One Supervisor Bert Courge for a board resolution requesting that the Department of Wildlife Conservation ban gill nets from all recreational beaches;

—Held a public hearing on a Community Development Block Grant application for funds for construction of a water system for Steep Hollow and Catahoula with no objections received;

—Received bids on repair of road equipment;

—Went on record stating that an alternate bid from Munro Petroleum will be used to obtain fuel when it can not be obtained from the principal supplier, Pearl River Oil Company;

—Approved a resolution concurring with Jackson County in opposition to a House of Representatives Bill which eliminates some of the tax credits presently available on forest products, timber lands and other industries;

—Approved an amendment to the Hancock County Park Commission budget of $5,000 for repair of the Dunbar Avenue Pier and for maintenance of baseball parks in Beat Four, with the money to come from the county general fund; and —Agreed to request a status report on Texas Flat Road, which is scheduled for paving under a U.S. Army strategic defense road paving program.

The board meets again at 9 a.m. May 14.

Five of nine appointees named for human resources council

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors has taken another step toward establishment of a local human resources council.

The establishment of the council was approved last month and will enable the county to operate the senior citizens and child development programs presently administered by South Mississippi Planning and Development District through its Area Agency on Aging.

Although official action is not expected until the May 14 meeting, the board on Monday named five of the members for the proposed nine-member council.

Beat One Supervisor Bert Courge said he has selected Dr. Thomas Murphree of Waveland as appointee for his district and proposed that Alonza Clayborn of Waveland be named as one of two large minority representatives.

Beat Two Supervisor A.A. Kellar selected Susan Stevens, who is affiliated with the social services division of Hancock General Hospital, as his appointee.

Beat Three Supervisor Roger Dale Ladner selected Pat Schott of Bay St. Louis.

Beat Five Supervisor James Travica selected Ethel Breaux.

The board delayed official action on the establishment of the council Monday because the Bay St. Louis City Council and the Waveland Board of Aldermen were both scheduled to appoint their human resources council members on Tuesday.

In addition, Beat Four Supervisor Sam Pernicaro said he has not yet decided who to appoint as council representative for his district.

Kellar said he had discussed the matter with South Mississippi Planning and Development District Director Les Newcomb and said Newcomb has no objection to the establishment of a local council.

Beth Favre, director of the Hancock County Child Development Center, said "that the human resource agency will help her program retain federal funds if it can be established by June."

According to Favre, a reorganization of the Area Agency on Aging will eliminate the human resources council currently operating the program.

If that human resources council is not replaced by June, the Hancock County Child Development Program could be ruled ineligible for federal funding.

She said the council will not actually have to start its operations until October, when the new fiscal year begins, but the mechanisms to do so must be in place by June.

Favre, Senior Citizens Director Eve McDonald and Chancery Clerk Michael Necaise will assist the new council in preparing budgets for the two programs.

Kellar also cautioned that because the programs will be operated locally, federal and state level budget cuts may become a problem.

The local funds will come from monies currently being paid to South Mississippi Planning and Development District for administration of the two programs.

"If you get cut at the state or federal level, there is no way we can make it up out of local money. I want this understood," Kellar said.

"We're already talking about 10 percent cuts across the board for our next budget," he explained.

The May 14 meeting begins at 9 a.m. at the Hancock County Courthouse.

Man charged in shooting

A Shoreline Park man has been arrested and charged with aggravated assault in connection with a Thursday night shooting incident.

Joe Hill, 46, of Ardic Street, has been released from the Hancock County Jail on $70,000 bond, according to Hancock County Sheriff's Investigator Glen Strong.

Strong said Hill allegedly shot at another Shoreline Park resident, Joseph Wright of Ocean Street.

At the meeting the council also agreed to employ local Architect Michael Reeves to plan city hall repairs.

Frankiewicz told the council Reeves had agreed to do the work for a fixed fee of $1,200 and would turn over all documents from the project to the city.

In other business, the council:

—Approved minutes of the Bay St. Louis Planning and Zoning Commission which included the acceptance on an amended plat of the Woods Estates deeding an additional 10 feet along Beyer Drive to the city for future widening of the street.

—Approved the appointment of Myron Labat to the Bay St. Louis Parks and Playgrounds Commission.

—Tabled a recommendation by Thriffley to expand the number of Parks and Playgrounds commissions.

—Discussed the appointment of a city judge pro tem, who would fill in when Judge John C. Chevis is absent. The council made no decision but requested Frankiewicz to check with area attorneys about their interest in the position.

Dynamite ranks third in state championship

Dynamite, Bay Area Youth Soccer Girls Under-12 Division IV Champion team sponsored by Gifts-n-Gold, placed third in the Mississippi Youth Soccer Association State Championships in Jackson May 3 and 4.

Dynamite, representing the Southern District, faced the Clinton Strikers from the West Saturday morning and won 2-0.

"Excellent teamwork with a pass from Kim Weinstein, right wing, to Erin O'Brien, striker, who then crossed the ball to Jennifer Carter, the left wing, resulted in the first goal by Carter," Coach Kathy Edwards reported.

The second goal, scored by Kim Weinstein, came when Weinstein received a pass at the goal line from Erin O'Brien.

Saturday afternoon was disappointing to the team when the Southwest Jackson Blue Panthers from the Central Division defeated Dynamite 2-0.

Whitney White left the game in the first half due to illness, and Amy Lee, Kristy Heitzmann and Kim Weinstein all suffered injuries.

Amy Lee was unable to compete in the final game due to her leg injury.

"We had the ball at the goal line at least 12 times," said Coach Edwards, "but it just wouldn't go in! The teamwork was outstanding and the girls were satisfied that they had played well."

Sunday at noon, Dynamite won its second game, defeating the Tupelo Leopards 2-0.

The first goal was scored on a powerful drive by center halfback Day Hays from outside the penalty box.

The second goal was scored by Kim Weinstein with an assist from Hays.

Dynamite's two wins gave them a total of four points for the tournament.

Only the southwest Jackson Panthers and the Vicksburg Flames, the state champions, earned more points. All other teams had fewer.

Having only two goals scored against them during the State Championships is a credit to the Dynamite defense, Edwards feels.

Dynamite goalie Susanna Cameron was noted as the best girl goalie in the state by several of the tournament referees.

The team received compliments throughout the weekend on their skills and teamwork from fans, opponents, onlookers and officials.

Many of the team members will continue preparing for next season by attending soccer camp this summer as well as practicing on their own.

"It is this unselfish willingness to devote their time and energy to becoming better soccer athletes that makes this team 'Dynamite.' They will always be winners," said Coach Edwards.

DAY HAYS, with the ball, scored in the Dynamite play-off game against Tupelo

Tigers down one in South State, continue tonight at Bay High Game one of the South State District Eight AAA baseball playoffs was won handily on Tuesday night in Collinsville by the West Lauderdale Knights of Coach Jerry Boatner.

The Knights defeated Bay High by a score of 6-0 with the winning pitcher, Russell Fleming allowing only one Tiger base hit, a single by Matt Fairconnetue in the fifth inning. Fleming struck out eleven Tigers while walking four.

Jeffery Smith received the pitching nod from Coach Gale McRaney, but was relieved after facing only five Knights. Brian Laneaux replaces Smith at the pitching mound.

Defensively, the Tigers were strong. After the opening jitters at the bottom of the first inning, only two runs were allowed, and there were two double plays turned between catcher Stace McRaney, third baseman Trace McRaney and first baseman Craig Breland.

In the bottom of the sixth inning, after the lead off batter, Mark Vance grounded out to third base, Charlie Roberts got a single. Cleanup hitter David Clark and Eric Plowman also singled to load the bases.

Michael Lee was the batter, count was one ball, two strikes before the powerful third baseman for the Knights hit a dribble to Tiger shortstop Smith, who in turned got the runner at home place for the second out, then catcher McRaney drilled the runner out at first to retire the side.

Game two of the tournament will be played tonight at Bay High diamond at 7 p.m. Should a third game be necessary, it will be played Saturday on a neutral field.

Recreational shrimping workshop scheduled at Library

Five state and federal agencies with marine interests are co-sponsoring the presentation this month of recreational shrimping workshops on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

City-County Library on US-90 in Bay St. Louis will be site of the first presentation from 7 to 9 p.m. Monday.

The programs are free and open to the public.

Workshop agenda includes: —'Shrimping Biology, Ecology and Behavior' and 'Shrimping Regulations,' both presented by Tom DeVender —'Handling and Storing Shrimp' by David Cook; and —'Shrimping Gear Operation and Adjustments' by Jim Barret.

The program presenters are all residents of Ocean Springs.

DeVender is a shrimp biologist with Mississippi Bureau of Marine Resources.

Cook is a microbiologist and assistant director of Gulf Coast Research Laboratories.

Barret is a gear specialist with the National Marine Fisheries Service.

The sponsoring agencies include the state's Sea Grant Advisory Service, Cooperative Extension Service, BMR, and GCRL, and the federal National Marine Fisheries Service.

Other workshops are scheduled for 7-9 p.m. Monday, May 19 at J.L. Scott Marine Education Center, Biloxi, and 7-9 p.m. Monday, May 26 at National Marine Fisheries Service, Pascagoula.

For information or early registration, call the Sea Grant Advisory Service at 1-388-4710.

Yacht Club sweeps Mandeville events

Bay-Waveland Yacht Club made a "clean sweep" at a Gulf Yachting Association opening regatta at Ponchartrain Yacht Club in Mandeville, La. May 3 and 4 by capturing the Capevielle Trophy, the Race Management Trophy and by winning the "Old Timers" and GYA Flying Scot classes.

The Capevielle Trophy is presented each year to the club in the GYA with the best sailing record in GYA-sanctioned regattas. BWYC has won this coveted award for 12 consecutive years.

the Sir Thomas Lipton Regatta Labor Day weekend.

The trophy award is based on GYA Capdevielle Regatta management only.

Mark Eagan, Rod Stieffel and Corky Hadden of BWYC outsailed the skippers from other GYA clubs to win the GYA Class.

Eagan won the first race with crew Rod Stieffel and Wayne Murphy.

Pass Christian Yacht Club won the second race, with Rod Stieffel and crew Renee Dupaquier and Molly Douglas in second place.

In the third race, New Orleans

Yacht Club finished first with Ponchartrain Yacht Club in second.

Corky Hadden with Rod Stieffel and Page Murphy finished third and gave BWYC the victory.

For the first time, BWYC won the John Dane Old Timers Trophy. Skippers and crew for this series, sailed in Flying Scots, must be 50 years of age or older.

Pete Morrill (BWYC) won the first race with crew Jack Bell and Harry Chapman.

Variables of water clarity and feeding sprees

According to Randy Fite, two-time winner of the Lone Star bass tournament and Johnson Outboards pro staff member, water clarity is very important in determining what kind of pattern exists on the lake.

"The clearer the water, generally speaking, the deeper the fish will hold. The more off-colored or stained the water, the more shallow you'll find the fish," he feels.

But what about those lakes that are "gin clear" for 20-25 feet? It all depends upon the penetration of sunlight into those depths.

"Fish will bite real well in clear water just like they do in other types of water, but in different parts of the country it affects them in different ways," comments Jerry Rhyne, one of the best spinnerbait fishermen in the country.

"I can go out West and catch fish in water that I can see 20-25 feet down in, and not have a problem doing it. But yet, I can go back in the East and find water that I can see 20 feet down or so in, and fishing becomes extremely hard."

Clarity, like fortune, is a state of mind. It all depends on what you're used to: gin clear, slightly stained, cloudy, or coffee. In all these types of water, fish bite and it's getting to know what the water's like during the seasonal changes that spells success for the angler.

"If a lake stays clear year 'round," stresses Rhyne, "it's easier to catch fish out of that clear water. But if it changes a lot—if it goes real muddy in the spring and winter, and then clears gradually as the warm weather comes in—then when it gets extremely clear, those fish do get harder to catch."

Water clarity and light penetration are crucial elements in the selection of a lure. The clearer the water, the more important your bait selection and presentation are.

All pros agree that the more you are acquainted with a certain body of water, the more keyed you will be to the feeding patterns of bass throughout the year. Gaining an insight into the feeding behavior of bass can mean the difference between going home with a full stringer and getting skunked. Randy Fite sheds some light on this:

"Feeding sprees can be very important and can be affected by shallow water conditions, which can create a feeding spree or lack of a feeding spree. For example, early in the morning and late in the evening are prime times to fish,

Ramsey, Ladner named top scholars at Bay High School

Kelly Ramsey and Carol Ann Ladner have been named valedictorian and salutatorian of the 1986 graduating class.

Miss Ramsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph D. Ramsey of Waveland, is valedictorian with an average of 98.36 for four years of high school. Salutatorian is Carol Ladner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Ladner of Bay St. Louis, with a four-year average of 98.21.

Throughout high school, Miss Ramsey has been an Alpha Honor

In her sophomore year, Miss Ladner was a member of the French Club, Varsity Quiz Bowl, Distributive Education Club, serving as treasurer; and member of the tennis team and volleyball team. She placed third in DECA District competition and fourth in State DECA competition.

As a junior, she was a member of the National Honor Society, Varsity

Quiz Bowl, tennis and volleyball teams, and was president of the Distributive Education Club. Miss Ladner placed second in District DECA competition and second in State.

This year, as a senior, Miss Ladner is again a member of the National Honor Society and French Club. She is treasurer of the Business Club and was selected Star Student by the Mississippi Economic Council. Miss Ladner was selected Hancock County Chamber of Commerce Student director this year and Student of the Month for April by the Exchange Club. She is again a member of the volleyball team and is on the yearbook staff.

Miss Ladner has received an ACT scholarship to Pearl River Junior College where she plans to major in nursing upon graduation from high school.

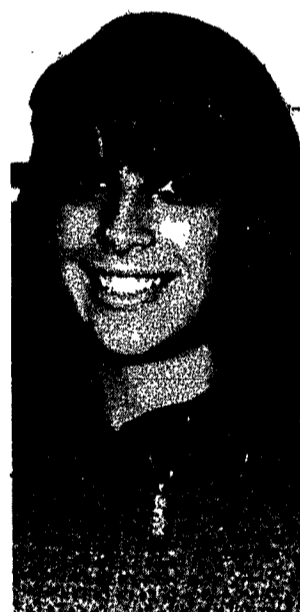

KELLY RAMSEY

Roll student and a three-year member of the volleyball team and two-year member of the tennis team.

As a sophomore, she was a member of the Varsity Quiz Bowl, French Club, Student Council, YM-CA, served as class president and was secretary of the Distributive Education Club.

Kelly also placed third in the DECA District competition.

In her junior year, Miss Ramsey was sophomore class secretary, vice president of the Distributive Education Club, secretary of the YMCA club and was a member of the National Honor Society. She again placed second in the District DECA competition.

CAROL ANN LADNER

This year as a senior, Miss Ramsey is president of the National Honor Society, secretary of the YM-CA, president of the Business Club and is class secretary. She is a member of the French Club and on the yearbook staff.

She was voted by her class members as "Most Likely to Succeed" and "Most Dependable." This year she placed second in the Free Enterprise team.

Upon graduation, Miss Ramsey plans to attend Mississippi State University and major in communications.

Miss Ladner is also a four-year Alpha Honor Roll student. She is a four-year member of the Student Council serving as vice president as a junior and as a senior this year is president.

Bay High journalism staff takes state honors

Top honors were won by members of the Bay High School Student Prints newspaper staff at the recent Mississippi Scholastic Press

Association's spring conference at the University of Mississippi.

Kristi Moon, editor of The Student Prints, accepted the award for third place in the state in the School Service category. Miss Moon is the recipient of an academic scholarship to Pearl River Junior College and will be majoring in communications and public relations.

Trace McRaney won first place in the state in the Sports Writing category. McRaney a football and baseball letterman at Bay High, has received an academic and two football scholarships to Pearl River Junior College and will major in communications.

Mrs. Jill Williams, journalism sponsor of The Student Prints and senior English teacher at Bay High School, was selected as Sponsor of The Year in the Mississippi Scholastic Press Association, which is made up of approximately 60 schools across the state. She serves as publicity director for the Bay St. Louis school system.

Youth Brief

DEAN'S LIST

Bay High journalism staff takes state honors

Top honors were won by members of the Bay High School Student Prints newspaper staff at the recent Mississippi Scholastic Press

Association's spring conference at the University of Mississippi.

Kristi Moon, editor of The Student Prints, accepted the award for third place in the state in the School Service category. Miss Moon is the recipient of an academic scholarship to Pearl River Junior College and will be majoring in communications and public relations.

Trace McRaney won first place in the state in the Sports Writing category. McRaney a football and baseball letterman at Bay High, has received an academic and two football scholarships to Pearl River Junior College and will major in communications.

Mrs. Jill Williams, journalism sponsor of The Student Prints and senior English teacher at Bay High School, was selected as Sponsor of The Year in the Mississippi Scholastic Press Association, which is made up of approximately 60 schools across the state. She serves as publicity director for the Bay St. Louis school system.

Youth Brief

DEAN'S LIST
John Santa Cruz has been named to the Dean's List for the Fall Session, 1985 at Ole Miss.

In order to receive this recognition, a student must compile a grade-point average of 3.5 or better (based on a 4.0 standard) during the session.

ing Aptitude, Mathematics and Science is a set of academic tests in seven subject area including mathematics, physics, chemistry, biology, English, engineering graphics and computer fundamentals. Suzette Burton sponsored the HNC group. The American Society of Civil Engineers sponsored the contest. (HNC photo)

Bay High journalism staff takes state honors

Top honors were won by members of the Bay High School Student Prints newspaper staff at the recent Mississippi Scholastic Press

Association's spring conference at the University of Mississippi. Kristi Moon, editor of The Student Prints, accepted the award for third place in the state in the School Service category. Miss Moon is the recipient of an academic scholarship to Pearl River Junior College and will be majoring in communications and public relations.

Trace McRaney won first place in the state in the Sports Writing category. McRaney a football and baseball letterman at Bay High, has received an academic and two football scholarships to Pearl River Junior College and will major in communications.

Mrs. Jill Williams, journalism sponsor of The Student Prints and senior English teacher at Bay High School, was selected as Sponsor of The Year in the Mississippi Scholastic Press Association, which is made up of approximately 60 schools across the state. She serves as publicity director for the Bay St. Louis school system.

Coast Episcopal names Star student, teacher

The Mississippi Economic Council has announced that Gretchen Elizabeth Zepernick has been selected as the Star Student at Coast Episcopal High School.

She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Zepernick of Diamondhead. Star Students are selected on the basis of academic excellence. American College Test scores and scholastic averages are considered in designation of the school's Star Student.

The Student-Teacher Achievement Recognition (STAR) Program encourages and promotes academic achievement among Mississippi's high school seniors, explained J. Kelley Williams of Jackson, chairman of MEC's STAR committee.

"Top scholars are being designated as Star Students in more than 300 participating schools in Mississippi. From these Star Students, the top 20 students in the state are selected, and the council awards scholarships to the state's top three Star Students and their Star Teachers," he continued. Funds for these scholarships are provided by the Phil Hardin Foundation of Meridian.

Each Star Student is asked to designate a Star Teacher, a teacher who has made the greatest contribution to the student's scholastic achievement.

Miss Linda-Louise McCulloch was designated Star Teacher. Miss Zepernick is a member of the National Honor Society, Mu Alpha Theta and the Society of Distinguished American High School Students; listed in Who's Who Among American High School Students.

She is co-editor of the school literary magazine "The Coast Quarterly" and business manager of the school yearbook. She is a cheerleader and was elected Homecoming Queen.

Miss Zepernick won the DAR Good Citizenship Award and was a Governor's Scholar in 1985. She has won numerous awards and honors for academic excellence.

GRETCHEN ZEPERNICK

Miss Zepernick plans to attend the University of New Mexico and major in biological sciences.

This is the fourth time Miss McCulloch has been chosen Star Teacher. She was chosen in 1975, 1976 and 1985.

Miss McCulloch is a graduate of Millsaps College with a bachelor's degree in history. She has been teaching at Coast Episcopal High School for 16 years.

Both the Star Student and the Star Teacher will receive certificates from the council, in addition to being eligible for competition for scholarship awards.

PEGGY WEBB

CAROL ANN LADNER

Frank Lander, principal of Bay Senior High School, recently reported the 1986 Star Student is Carol Ann Ladner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Ladner.

Peggy Webb was selected by Miss Ladner as Star Teacher. She has been teaching marketing and cooperative education at Bay High School for three and one-half years.

Miss Ladner has served as Student Council president, DECA president, Business Club treasurer, and student director of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

She is also an active member of the National Honor Society, Yearbook Staff, French Club, Varsity Quiz Bowl, volleyball team, and tennis team. Miss Ladner plans to attend Pearl River Junior College to study nursing.

Mrs. Webb received her bachelor's degree from Delta State University with a major in business education. She received her master's degree in vocational education from Mississippi State University. Mrs. Webb has taught marketing and cooperative education for 15 years throughout Mississippi. She is treasurer and district representative of the Mississippi Association of D.F. Teachers and is a member of Long Beach United Methodist Church.

The selection of Star Student and Star Teacher is sponsored by the Mississippi Economic Council whose purpose is to encourage scholastic achievement among Mississippi students and to recognize outstanding Mississippi teachers.

GET THE TOUCH

TOUCH-TONE
SERVICE

A whole new world of possibilities right at your fingertips.

It's fast dialing in emergencies. Easy for children and people with disabilities. And Touch-Tone service puts you in touch with telephone banking, shopping, information services and so much more.

To order, call our toll-free number. We'll let you know when your service is working, and you just plug in your new Touch-Tone phone. Whether you buy or lease your phone, just be sure to check the bottom to see that the serial number ends in T or E. Then you'll know you're getting a true tone-dialing phone that will work with convenient Touch-Tone service.*

Get Touch-Tone service for your home for only $1.50 a month. And save the Touch-Tone connection charge by ordering before May 31st. For details, call on us toll free at 1 800 722-1616.

FREE Touch-Tone Connection! Order by May 31 and Save $23.50.

*Also make sure the set has a polarity guard (most new ones do). In some areas Touch-Tone sets without polarity guards won't work with special services such as telephone banking.
Services mentioned are available in most areas. Limited capacity in some areas. Rates and savings are different for businesses. Rates subject to change. Customers who have never had Touch-Tone service also save a $6.00 one-time premium charge. This charge does not apply to customers who have had Touch-Tone service before. Additional one-time charges may apply for party-line customers.
The regular new phone service connection applies if ordering Touch-Tone with new service.

general laws, exempt particular species of property from taxation, in whole or in part. The Legislature shall provide, by general law, the method by which the true value of taxable property shall be ascertained; provided, however, in arriving at the true value of Class I and Class II property, the appraisal shall be made according to current use, regardless of location. The Legislature may provide for a special mode of valuation and assessment for railroads, and railroad and other corporate property, or for particular species of property belonging to persons, corporations or associations not situated wholly in one (1) county. All such property shall be assessed in proportion to its value according to its class, and no county, or other taxing authority, shall be denied the right to levy county and/or special taxes upon such assessment as in other cases of property situated and assessed in the county, except that the legislature, by general law, may deny or limit a county or other taxing authority the right to levy county and/or special taxes on nuclear-powered electrical generating plants, the legislature, by general law enacted by a majority vote of the members of each house present and voting, may provide for a special mode of valuation, assessment and levy upon nuclear-powered electrical generating plants and provide for the distribution of the revenue derived therefrom. The Legislature may provide a special mode of assessment, fixing the taxable year, date of the tax lien, and method and rate of assessing and collecting taxes on all motor vehicles. The assessed value of property shall be a percentage of its true value, which shall be known as its assessment ratio. The assessment ratio on each class of property as defined herein shall be uniform throughout the state upon the same class of property, provided that the assessment ratio of any one (1) class of property shall not be more than three (3) times the assessment ratio on any other class of property, or purposes of assessment for ad valorem taxes, taxable property shall be divided into five (5) classes and shall be assessed at a percentage of its true value as follows: Class I. Single-family, owner-occupied, residential real property, at ten percent (10%) of true value. Class II. All other real property, except for real property included in Class I or IV, at fifteen percent (15%) of true value. Class III. Personal property, except for motor vehicles and for personal property included in Class I, at fifteen percent (15%) of true value. Class IV. Public Utility property, which is property owned or used by public service corporations required by general laws to be appraised and assessed by the state or the county, excluding railroad and airline property and motor vehicles, at thirty percent (30%) of true value. Class V. Motor vehicles, thirty percent (30%) of true value. The Legislature may, by general law, establish crease limitations on class I property. FURTHER RESOLVED, the Secretary of State is directed to give public notice of an election in the year and for the time provided by Section 273 of the Constitution, for the purpose of submitting this and other amendments to the constitution to the qualified voters of this state for their ratification or rejection, such election to be conducted and the first Tuesday after Monday of June 1986, in the manner provided by law for statewide general elections. HNC students attend Ole Miss symposium

Three Hancock North Central juniors, chaperoned by Mrs. Suzette Burton attended an April symposium on the Oxford Campus of the University of Mississippi.

Steven Croll and Bryan Supak. They also visited the research laboratories and viewed scientists at work.

A total of 120 students and 40 teachers from Mississippi attended

HNC pair attends confab

Sherri Smith and Margaret Lizana, juniors at HNC, attended a Mississippi Association of Colleges for Teachers of Education Conference in Jackson recently.

They were accompanied by Ms. Suzette Burton, science teacher.

Theme of the conference was "What the future holds for young scientists, mathematicians and linguists."

Astronaut Dale Gardner, a NASA mission specialist on two space flights; Dr. Claire Gaudiani, professor of foreign language at the University of Pennsylvania; and Charles Allen, a mathematics supervisor in the Los Angeles Unified School District were featured speakers.

The conference was sponsored by deans of the association and underwritten by a federal grant from the Education for Economic Security Act of 1984, Title II.

WHIPLASH INJURIES

Whiplash injuries, of course, occur from auto accidents, falls and fighting. They are associated with some degree of injury to ligaments and muscles along with pinched nerves. All such injuries of the neck can be serious and bring about dangerous malfunctions within the nervous system. The science of Chiropractic has developed a special technology which promotes faster healing while minimizing the serious consequences of the condition. Every injury of this nature should be examined by a doctor of Chiropractic as he has the training and experience which qualify him to aid in rapid recovery.

ETV Brief

BLACK CHAMPIONS

Throughout the 20th century, the achievements of black American athletes have thrilled and touched millions. These stories of heroic gestures, historic firsts, personal triumphs and shared victories are chronicled in "Black Champions," a three-part series premiering at 9 p.m., Wednesday, May 14, on Mississippi ETV.

"Black Champions" combines archival film footage with present-day interviews, still photos and period music to provide an insightful look at how blacks have made the transition from groundbreakers to multi-million-dollar superstars.

The series touches on the experiences of athletes who served as "the first" "the only" black in their fields; the role athletic departments of black colleges played in shaping the careers of black athletes; and how black athletes cope with the pressure and sophistication of the multi-million dollar world of sports.

Among the athletes interviewed in "Black Champions" are Sugar Ray Leonard, Evelyn Ashford, Arthur Ashe and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar.

WHIPLASH INJURIES

Whiplash injuries, of course, occur from auto accidents, falls and lifting. They are associated with some degree of injury to ligaments and muscles along with pinched nerves. All such injuries of the neck can be serious and bring about dangerous malfunction within the nervous system. The science of Chiropractic has developed a special technology which promotes faster healing while minimizing the serious consequences of the condition. Every injury of this nature should be examined by a doctor of Chiropractic as he has the training and experience which qualify him to aid in rapid recovery.

ETV Brief

BLACK CHAMPIONS

Throughout the 20th century, the achievements of black American athletes have thrilled and touched millions. These stories of heroic gestures, historic firsts, personal triumphs and shared victories are chronicled in "Black Champions," a three-part series premiering at 9 p.m., Wednesday, May 14, on Mississippi ETV.

"Black Champions" combines archival film footage with present-day interviews, still photos and period music to provide an insightful look at how blacks have made the transition from groundbreakers to multi-million-dollar superstars.

The series touches on the experiences of athletes who served as "the first" — "the only" black in their fields; the role athletic departments of black colleges played in shaping the careers of black athletes; and how black athletes cope with the pressure and sophistication of the multi-million dollar world of sports.

Among the athletes interviewed in "Black Champions" are Sugar Ray Leonard, Evelyn Ashford, Arthur Ashe and Kareem Abdul-Jabbar.

School board to reclassify section seco

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

Once again the Hancock County School Board refused to second a motion to reclassify a parcel of 16th section land from residential to commercial.

Board Member Lennete Necaise made the motion based on a recommendation by Superintendent Terrell Randolph to reclassify the 1.28 acres of land in Section 30-6-15 fronting on the Caesar-Necaise Road.

Board President Billie Lyons said she would not second the motion because of protests she had received from several area residents about a proposed store to be built on the property if a commercial lease was granted.

Randolph had also recommended the board approve a commercial lease to Durwin Spence on the parcel of land at a rate of $270 per year for 25 years.

The board did vote to advertise for sealed bids for a residential lease on the property to be opened at the June meeting.

The bids on the property are necessary due to more than one person requesting a lease.

According to Lyons a standard

Poll manager tr sessions to begin

Hancock County Election Commission and Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee are sponsoring instruction classes for poll managers in the June 3 election.

All sessions will begin at 7 p.m. and all participants will be certified as trained poll managers, according to Charles Gottschalk, commission secretary.

State law requires poll managers to attend training sessions and to reside in the precinct in which they work.

The training sessions will be conducted Wednesday at Hancock North Central High School; Friday at Gulfview Elementary School, Lakeshore; Monday, May 19, Kiln Recreation Center; Wednesday, May 21, Waveland Library; and Friday, May 23, Hancock County Courthouse.

The commission Friday released the following list of prospective managers to serve in the June 3 election:

DISTRICT ONE

Ansley
Sandra Evans (receiving manager), Beate LaFontaine, Lois Ann Evans, Sissy Miles, Verna Ladner and Garland James (balliff).

Lakeshore
Iona LaFontaine (receiving manager), Doris Richards, Alberta M. Green, Victor Green Jr., Lorena Bowman and Donna Marquar (balliff).
